Manufacturing, Transportation & Logistics Price List

Manufacturing Operations

Asset Tracking	3
Using barcodes to track physical assets throughout their lifecycle in order to reduce costs, ensure efficiency, and promote better management of assets.
Product Labeling	5
Identifying products in order to convey some type of information to the public. Zebra includes Brand Protection, Chemical, Computers, Electronics & Telecommunications, Pharmaceutical, UDI, Small Item Marking, and UID to be specific fields where product Labeling will be most beneficial.
Quality Assurance	14
Going through a series of activities to ensure a product meets all requirements during the manufacturing process..
Work-in-Process	15
Monitoring each phase in the manufacturing process to ensure consistent quality and output. Employees use online or portable readers to scan barcodes from routing sheets, to track work-in-process costs and manufacturing progress.
Parts Inventory Management	16
Tracking parts to ensure efficient processes and management once an asset is received and put on the shelf.

Warehouse Operations and Logistics

Compliance Labeling	17
Ensuring that everyone practices a similar labeling approach that clearly defines the label format, usage, and information to include on the label.
Inventory Management	18
Tracking and managing material and goods that are available as stock from a company.
Load Management	19
Automating procedures to make sure a warehouse is running as efficient as possible.
Order Picking & Staging	20
Collecting items from a warehouse to satisfied an order or need for the item.
Security	22
Tracking and confirming the distribution of authentic goods, which includes Access and Identification.
Shipping & Receiving	24
Transporting and tracking goods throughout the supply chain to make sure they reach their final destination.
